“ As a neighbor to Beleta at Mercy Park, she was the first person I met in May, 2018. She had been in her apartment only a month or so before I moved in, and being a couple of doors down from me, she asked if she could see my apartment. Needless to say, I thought it was a little bold to ask to see my apartment when we didn't know each other, but I thought, if she was that curious then, be my guess. Her outgoing spirit was okay with me. We visited each other's apartments on occasion, she helped me with hair issues and told she had been a cosmetologist for many years and I appreciated her knowledge. I was in the lobby the evening that the ambulance took her to the hospital, she didn't speak, just waved as they rolled her by. The next day, I thought I heard her come back, so later I knocked on her door and she wasn't feeling her greatest but she invited me in and shared with me her diagnosis. She asked me to be in touch, she gave me her number and told me to look out and be watchful in regards to her apartment for she was going to be in and out. Well, one evening I had a taste for a hot dog, and don't usually buy them, I went to Beleta's door to see if she had any and I was greeted with her Alexa message, "I am not home, call me later, and Beleta, was talking, telling me to call her later but, I told her it wasn't necessary because it was something I wanted for the moment. Later that evening she called me and told me she was at her sister's and she was going to be there a while but she may be come through but she asked me again to keep a watch. And that was the last time I was to talk to her. I spent Christmas at my son's and I thought I heard her voice in the hall on December 26th and I had went to the store on December 31st, when I came in the building, a lady asked me had I heard that Beleta had passed. Needless to say, I hadn't and with a combination of surprise, disbelief and sadness. Today, I went to get my mail and saw the announcement about Beleta's Celebration of Life Services, I am sorry that I was unable to attend but am so thankful that you had this live stream. It was so beautiful and a true celebration of such a special lady. My condolences to her family. Love and blessings to you all.
