“ I have known Daisy for over 20 years, since Glenda and I became friends. I will always remember her smile and her laugh. The first time I saw her crazy sense of humor was at work at Alabama Power. Glenda and I were in training, along with the rest of our class. There was a guy there named Tommy who was a real clown and could do the voices of the characters Eddie Murphy played in Coming To America. It was the barber shop scene. Daisy came over to our classroom so Tommy could do the scene for her. I remember he was a little reluctant because of some bad words but she wanted the full effect, although he refrain from using the really bad ones. She cracked up!! It was so funny. We were all laughing and I thought "Wow! How cool is she?!" I was still young so back then most adults seemed so serious and stern but Daisy was funny and genuine. Glenda is so much her mother's daughter in that regard. Rest in peace, sweet Daisy. You will continue to live on in your beautiful daughter and precious grandchildren.

“ Aunty We just want to say Thank you. You embodied the words of class and grace in so many ways. My thoughts of you reflect upon your smile, your strength, your beauty and sincerity. I promise I will miss the days you blessed the kitchen with an array of meals. The mac n cheese was 2nd to none. More than that you made everyone you came into contact with special. Please get a little rest and my prayer is to see you again to simply say Thank You. I light a candle in your memory.
