“ I was born into our large family and I'll always remember my mother, Gladys, looking forward to visits to Indianapolis from her out of town family. No trip was complete without a stop at Uncle Joe Bebley's house, where there was always enough food and room for one more. Peter enjoyed listening to the elder uncles recant stories and we all fondly remember when the five sisters would gather, each with a beauty of their own. At times like this, I find comfort in knowing that he is now reunited with those loved ones he so sorely missed. 🙏❤️

This is so wonderful. My husband was the most sweetest, and kindest person I ever met. He embodied what a Christian is supposed to represent. He didn't just talk he walked his testimony and it was read by all men. Bishop Pulliam was a friend of God's. He will be sorely missed by many . He impacted thousands of lives.
