“Dyal was one of the best people that I have ever known in my life. He was always full of life, laughter and I will truly miss his smile and jovial spirit. I am smiling as I write this because I am just thinking of all the great times that we experienced over the 20 years that we were friends. From the many trips to New Orleans for the Essence Festival, cookouts, hanging at various restaurants and venues in the metro Atlanta area to just having general and intimate conversations about life and where we saw ourselves in the future...it was never a dull moment. We seem to just hit it off after our introduction through Bruce Holloway and just continued to hang out ever since.

Dyal was the type of person who genuinely cared about people and had a very giving spirit. I know that he knew GOD and I know that he loved his family, friends and his children as he often spoke about them and expressed on many occasions of how he felt about them. He was the type of friend who would be there for you if you needed him.

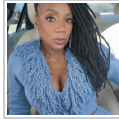

It is truly disheartening to believe that I won't be able to pick up the phone and call my best buddy, my friend, and my brother, but it's great to know that I will have all of the great memories to reflect on. It's hard just thinking about not being able to meet up at the various places that we would frequent and seeing my buddy step into the room with his infectious smile, but I know that he is with GOD and perhaps making him smile and laugh as much as he did with us in this life.

I would like to offer my sincerest condolences and prayers to his family and loved ones because I know that as I hurt through the loss of a friend that your pain is even greater. May GOD continue to bless you and keep you in his strength and in his grace!!!!

Sincerely,

“Dyal was a man with a very jovial and giving spirit. A great friend, and someone that I could always count on to make me laugh. I will truly miss him!!!! I am grateful that I had the opportunity to share many special times with him shopping, on trips, to concerts and at various social events. His personality immediately drew you in and shortly thereafter he would have you laughing about something. His smile radiated happiness. One thing that I think of often is when Dyal would say, “Maelondy?” then wait on my response to his question to make sure I was listening. I always found that to be hilarious, but I knew he was serious whenever he would say it. This is indeed a great loss for all of us who knew and cared for Dyal. Words cannot express how I feel and how much I will miss his presence in my life.

I can no longer send inspirational messages to Dyal, but I will continue to pray for all who loved and cared about him. I will pray the Serenity prayer and continue to ask for strength in the Lord. Gone but never forgotten.

My sincerest and deepest condolences to the entire family and of all his friends. May we keep the fondest memories near?

With My Love Always,

Maelondy
