“ I am so sadden by the passing of Miss Viola. Miss Viola came into my life over 20 years ago when my mother passed away. Myself, Miss Viola and her daughter Olinda worked at Duckhead. I was at work when I got the news that mother had passed away. Miss Viola was there to comfort me and thus begin a connection that I will forever cherish.

My family and I were new to Georgia and she taught me what "salad" and "creamed potatoes" were (turnip greens and mashed potatoes, for us Yankees) and had a big laugh about it everytime I would visit. My husband was fond of her ice tea and I asked her why her tea tasted so good, she said "Baby, put a bit of soda in it." Well, this Yankee, poured Coca Cola in my tea and it was horrible. I went Miss Viola and told her, that I put in about 1/3 cup of Coke in my tea and it was horrible. She and Mr Rufus bursted out howling with laughter. She, look at me with that look only she could give and said, "Child, I mean baking soda, Lord have mercy." Thank you Miss Viola for your life lessons and not treating me like an ignoramous.

I last saw her about 3 weeks ago in Walmart with Olinda, she was looking so cheerful, as she was always. I'll never forget you, Miss Viola. Thank you for being there when I was at my lowest. I'm going to miss coming over on Waverly and not seeing your smiling face welcoming me in.

My most sincere condolences to the entire Slaton family.

Love
Nina Jackson
