“ Daddy, it's me. I miss you lots. Sometimes I catch myself driving riding and think of you out of nowhere. Some days I cry, others I laugh. Joy and I were talking about when you went out on the football field to put her on your shoulders during cheerleading season 😭😭😭 here is your other grandson that unfortunately you didn't get to meet before you passed, but I know you heard me that day on the couch and here he is. He loves baseball the most of our soccer and basketball. He is so funny and the back of his neck looks like how yours used to 😂

“ Hey Daddy,

I miss you so much. I wish I could walk in the house, see you sitting in that recliner and hear you say "yooooo, what up dawg" with your hand out and I put my hand in yours and we dap each other up. I hope wherever you are, you are happy and having a good time free of illness. We are good down here and we talk about the good times we had with you daily.

Keep showing up for me, I see you big dawg even though you're not here in the flesh. They wouldn't believe me if I told him.

Love you Daddy,

Jessica

“ Daddy,

It's Jessie. I miss you so much and we're only on day 2 of this long journey ahead. Like you always said, "life goes on, Jessie". Well Daddy, life goes on but I'll be sure to never forget everything you taught me, from how to hit a softball, change a tire, to checking the oil in my car. I'll be sure to, "Save your money, Jessie" like you'd always say and to honor the father and thy mother.

You fought so hard and were so selfless during your fight and now I know what it means to "fight, don't quit Jessie".. you'd always say that when I was up to bat and had two strikes on me. You showed me what is means to "fight, battle and don't quit"

I love you to infinity and into the next lifetime, Daddy!

I know you got everybody grooving to your jams while you spin those records.
